Alessi & FLOS Participate in INTERNI 60th Anniversary Charity Auction

June 03, 2014

INTERNI magazine is celebrating its 60th anniversary and 60 years of Italian design with an online charity auction. The anniversary is in collaboration with six renowned Italian brands in the fields of accessories, living and lighting including: Alessi, Cappellini, Cassina, Flos, Kartell, and Poltrona Frau. Each company created a special limited-edition of one of its most iconic products, made with a unique finish, and only available through INTERNI's online benefit auction through June 13 to benefit the Diabetes Research Institute Foundation.

Alessi created six of the champagne bottle openers from the Noé series of wine accessories designed by Giulio Iacchetti in hand plated 24 carat gold. Auction starting price is $1,200.

FLOS created two special edition String Lights designed by Michael Anastassiades. Originally finished in black, this one-of-a-kind white version is completed with artwork by NYC-based visual artist Shantell Martin. Auction starting price is $1,980.

A prestigious international magazine about architecture and design, INTERNI launched 50 years ago. A guide to new ideas and the most innovative trends in living. The publication has launched a unique system of special issues, specialized guides, and special events with growing alliances in the international “design system,” which can be seen by the growing number of international editions.
