

Shoprite gives to Diabetes Institute

Inserra Supermarkets and the Inserra Family Foundation presented the Diabetes Research Institute Foundation (DRIF) with a check for $410,114.06 this past November. The donation resulted from the company's annual summer DRI fundraisers at all of its Inserra family owned and operated ShopRite and Price Rite Marketplace stores.

The Inserra Family matched the $205,057.03 donations raised at the stores. During the check presentation, Inserra Supermarkets Chairman and CEO Lawrence Inserra, Jr. fulfilled a campaign promise to dress up as Snoopy if the stores exceeded their fundraising goals. All money donated goes directly to research for the cure at the Diabetes Research Institute.

COURTESY OF ALEXIS PAUL

SHOPRITE OF Hoboken Presents $410,114.06 to Diabetes Research Institute. Front Row: Lars Larsen, Hannah Sullivan, Vera Kovalski, Dan McLaughlin, registered dietitian, Marie Inserra, Laura DuPont, Carl Inserra, Jr., Theresa Dooley, Tom Karyla, senior vice president, Diabetes Research Institute Foundation, "Snoopy Inserra," Lindsey Inserra, vice president, Inserra Supermarkets, Bonnie Inserra, Annie Fabrizion, Trellis Anderson, John Cantaloci, Nathalia Oritz, registered dietitian, Daniel Wares, Elisabeth Holtzer, registered dietitian. Second Row: Lisa Keitges, Diabetes Research Institute Foundation, Ron Onorata, president, Inserra Supermarkets, Ron Mowder, general manager, ShopRite of Hoboken, John Pimont and Lawrence Inserra III, Chairman and CEO, Inserra Supermarkets.

