

Don Strock Diabetes Golf Classic Hits The Green For A Cure

by Diabetes Research Institute and Foundation

Posted: 2018-04-06

Hollywood, FL – It's tee time for the 35th Annual Don Strock Diabetes Golf Classic, one of the longest running and most successful celebrity/amateur charity golf tournaments in the South Florida community.

The tourney on Wednesday, May 9, 2018 is hosted by former Miami Dolphins quarterback Don Strock and chaired by philanthropist and retired produce company owner Bruce Fishbein at the Miccosukee Golf and Country Club, 6401 Kendale Lakes Drive, in Miami.

The Don Strock Diabetes Golf Classic has raised more than $3 million for the Diabetes Research Institute (DRI) and its mission to find a biological cure for diabetes.

Participants will join celebrity and amateur golfers first for lunch and then a shotgun tee off at Noon. After completing the picturesque and challenging course, players enjoy a cocktail hour and awards dinner including an exciting live and silent auction to benefit the DRI.

Each year, the event is largely sponsored by Fishbein's former colleagues in the South Florida produce business and shipping industries including GPS Global Perishable Services, LLP; King Ocean Services; Premier Produce; Sotolongo Farms; M & R Produce Distributors; Mr. Greens Produce; Sierra Produce; Quality First Produce; Tropical Shipping; Pine Island Tomato Farms; Aloha Freightways; Crystal Valley Foods; and HapCor.

For more information, visit DiabetesResearch.org/Don-Strock-Diabetes-Golf-Classic or contact Nicole Otto at atnotto@drif.org or 954-964-4040.

Source: Diabetes Research Institute and Foundation